How to apply for a HIGHER EDUCATION PROGRAM IN FRANCE for the academic year 2022-2023?

You are a UK student or an international student in the UK and you want to come and study in France for 2022-2023?
Campus France UK's Office reopens from the 25th of October onwards!

Campus France UK team is thrilled to announce the reopening of the London office!

Do you need advice to plan your academic project in France and information on how to apply to your dream program? You can send an email to book an appointment to discuss your personal situation at our office or through a virtual meeting at londres@campusfrance.org.

We are looking forward to meeting you!

To attend a personal orientation session to discuss your project in France you can also book an appointment after creating your account on Etudes en France!

On Études en France

If you are applying
• for a license 1
• a first year in an ENSA
  (Établissement National Supérieur d'Architecture)

Tip 1: To increase your chances of getting accepted, we advise you to select as many options as you can!

Tip 2: If you can’t find your program on the platform, it might be one of the few programs that has its own selection process, and you should contact the institution directly!

WHAT DO YOU NEED?
• Your transcripts of records (A-levels, high school grades, and any transcripts of records from any potential other university program)
• A cohesive academic project
• Your passport
• Your language test up to date: TCF-DAP or TCF-tout public (TP) score (level B2 minimum)

WHAT DO YOU DO?
You select up to three programs in public universities and up to two programs in architecture schools. You need to write a motivation for each program of your choice.

WHAT ABOUT LANGUAGE TEST?
A French test is compulsory to prove an B2 level for a first year of Bachelor in France.

• If you have the adequate test, you can join it to the language section on Etudes en France
• If you don’t have a test you can register in one of the French language tests sessions organized by Campus France UK:

First year at the university or in an architecture school
• 1st of October – 15 of December:
  Apply to a License 1 or a first year in architectural school.
• 15th of December – 1st of January:
  Your Etudes en France interview: you will have the opportunity to book an appointment for your interview and come and explain your project.

Before you have your interview, you will be asked to pay the administrative costs of the platform (£90).

You will be exempted from paying your fees if:
• You have a French Baccalaureate
• You have an Entente Cordiale scholarship
• You have an Erasmus + scholarship
• You have an Erasmus Mundus scholarship

Once your payment has been validated (unless you’re exempted), you will have the opportunity to book an appointment for an interview to expose your academic project. The interview will be in our office in London and will last 30 minutes.

• 31st March: Deadline for higher education institutions’ decisions
• 15th May: Deadline for accepting your higher education institution’s offer on Études en France
If you are applying for any other program (License 2 or 3, Master 1 or 2)

Tip 1: To increase your chances of getting accepted, add seven programs!

Tip 2: If you can’t find your program on the platform, it might be one of the few programs that have their own application process.

WHAT DO YOU NEED?
- Your transcripts of records (A-levels, high school grades, and any transcripts of records from a potential other university program)
- A cohesive educational project
- Your passport
- Your language test up to date (conformed to your higher education program prerequisite)

WHAT DO YOU DO?
- You select up to seven formations in a preference and a cohesive order. The seven choices include the program you will already have made in the DAP programs for a first year in a public university or in school of architecture.
- You need to write a motivation for each program of your choice

WHAT ABOUT LANGUAGE TEST?
If you have chosen programs that require a French level, you need to show an appropriate test that fits your program requirements.

You will have to add the adequate test for your Etudes en France file in the language section.

You don’t need to join one of the three sessions listed above co-organized by Campus France UK. There are just for students joining a first year in public university (License 1).
